MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Disease, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at the pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who in all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained at all, apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Cured at Home

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy5d4p

Presentations to the Winning Boat Clubs

SARATOGA, July 15.—At 12 last night the winning crew of Cornell were summoned to the ball room of Congress Hall, where an immense throng was gathered, and each of the crew presented with a United States flag and banner, also a banner to the winner of the single scull race, Mr Kennedy of Yale. The flags and banners were the annual trophies bestowed by the college association. In addition to these, an elegant silver cup was presented to each member of the winning crews and to Mr Kennedy. The trophies were presented by Hon Stephen W Kellogg of Connecticut. The presentation was accompanied by hearty cheers for the winners. The Cornell boys were also presented with a magnificent banquet, and congratulations were heaped upon them from all sides. Up to a late hour this forenoon the streets are still lively with marching parties of college boys venting their enthusiasm in songs and cheers.

The Victors Going Home.

ITHACA, N Y, July 15.—The Cornell freshmen and university crews leave Saratoga to-morrow for home, where a reception awaits them.

The Intercollegiate Sports.

SARATOGA, July 15.—The sports were resumed today. C M Barbour of Amherst won the mile run in [illegible]. The mile walk was won by W H Platt in 7:50. G W Green of Harvard led [illegible] but was ruled out on account of foul [illegible]. The seven mile walk was won by W R Taylor, M [illegible] of Williams second, and Clarence W [illegible] of Columbia third. Dartmouth fell out [illegible] miles and Brown before the fourth mile. [illegible] time was 65:16½, Driscoll 65:56, and Francis [illegible]. Driscoll fainted at the end of the race. The great event was the four mile run, with six competitors. C M Culver of Union College won in 5:34, [illegible] Trumbull of Yale second, J B Potter of Cornell third.

In the afternoon the second part of the programme—the athletic sports—was carried out at [illegible] Mitchell. The first race, of half a mile, was contested by David Trumbull of Yale, and C H [illegible] of Amherst, won by Trumbull in 2 m 6½ s. The three mile walk, contested for by W H [illegible] of Williams, W R Taylor of Harvard, and J T Fairbanks of Brown, was won by Taylor in [illegible], Fairbanks withdrawing on the second mile.

The hundred yard dash between H L Greistin of Union university, Pa, C L Culver of Union, J [illegible] Ladley of Williams, J B Potter of Cornell and H C Hall, of Yale was won by Potter in 10¼ s. Ladley sprained his ankle, but nevertheless he crossed the score second.

The entries for the three mile race were H. Rodgers, [illegible], D C Morrill, Amherst, and J D Goodwin, Columbia. Goodwin withdrew on the half mile and Rodgers on the last half mile. [illegible] took the race in 17 m. [illegible] s.

The hurdle race, 100 yards, over ten hurdles, excited the most interest and was the cause of general entertainment for the spectators. Entries: J [illegible], Columbia, Cortes Maxwell, Yale, W C [illegible], Yale, C B King, Union. The race was won by [illegible] in 19¼ seconds. This is 1¼ second better than the same man's time last year, when he was victor in the hurdle race.

The seven mile walk for past graduates was the last race of the day, and was contested by M S [illegible], Harvard, 1874, J W Gunter, Williams, [illegible], Wesleyan, 1874. It was won by [illegible]. Gunter's time was 70 02.

A Defaulter at the Point of Death.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 15.—Information was received to-night of an extensive defalcation in the office of the revenue collector for this district. [illegible] N. Jackson, deputy collector and cashier [illegible] Collector Buckner, was discovered this afternoon to be $40,000 short in his accounts. A warrant was issued to-night for his arrest, but upon reaching the house the deputy was met by a physician who refused to allow Jackson to be removed, saying he could not live till morning. There is a suspicion that he took arsenic. He has heretofore been scrupulous, honest and upright.

Attempted Murder.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 15.—Miss Aurora K [illegible] attempted to take the life of Dr W Thompson, with a revolver, at Northampton, yesterday, because he failed to keep his promise to marry her, but was foiled in the attempt, and Dr Thompson has since taken steps for her confinement as a lunatic. Her friends claim that she is not insane. [illegible] much excitement in town over the affair.

Extensive Robbery.

CINCINNATI, July 15.—The Enquirer's Canton (Ohio) special says that Jerome Market has been arrested there on suspicion of having, with accomplices, committed the most extensive robbery that ever occurred there. The property stolen consists of nearly $14,000 in mortgage notes, $3,000 worth of silverware, gold and silver watches, and other articles, to the value of about $20,000. Nearly all have been recovered.

Jail Delivery.

ST. LOUIS, July 15.—A Republican's special from [illegible], Ks., says the jail of that place, in which were ten of the most notorious horse thieves of Southern Kansas, was broken open by the prisoners last night and all escaped. Wallace Bennett, the last of a gang brought from Cheyenne agency by U. S. Marshal Lefebre three weeks ago, among them. They were all armed, having been assisted by friends. After the escape officers went in pursuit, and it is believed a terrible fight will occur when they overtake them, which will be within twenty four hours. Most of the thieves are outlaws of the worst character and will make desperate resistance to recapture.

Telegraph Matters.

BOSTON, July 15.—At an adjourned meeting of the Franklin Telegraph Company, held to-day, Alfred [illegible], of New York, presided. He stated that a statement of the company's finances could not be presented, as it was not ready. The following ticket, the New York party, was elected: Sidney Dillon, Jay Gould, W J Sims, John H. Mortimer, Thos. T. Eckert, Henry M. Tabor, Fred. L. Ames, E. H. [illegible], E. H. Rollins—Messrs Dillon and Eckert having 7,835, being all the votes cast, and the others [illegible]. Nelson was re-elected treasurer. A preamble, reciting that the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company have fraudulently assumed control of the Franklin line, decreased its rates and injured its business by gross mismanagement, and a resolution directing the directors to bring action in behalf of the company in law or in equity against the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, was [illegible] by a vote of [illegible] to 7,293. Adjourned.

Threatened with a Flood.

PITTSBURG, July 15.—During a heavy rain last night the people residing along Butcher's run Allegheny, were forcibly reminded of the flood of last year. Sewers were taxed beyond their capacity and the water rushed along East street to the depth of three feet. The frightened inmates of houses took refuge on the hills, and for a time the air was rent with screams of women and children. The flood soon subsided and no serious damage was done.

Red Cloud Agency—Fatal Conflict with Indians.

OMAHA, July 15.—The Herald's special from the Red Cloud agency reports the killing of two Indians and wounding of three others by soldiers on the reservation. The Indians are intensely excited over the occurrence, and all negotiations and work of the commissioners are entirely suspended and they are detained at Red Cloud agency. The circumstances attending the affair are not known.

An Effort to Bear Western Union Stock, which Fails.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Paper Telegraph Company, recently announced from San Francisco, has utterly failed in its purpose of bearing Western Union stock.

A Reminder to Beach.

The Herald reminds lawyer Beach that he fails to produce his promised affidavits showing that the Beecher jurors were improperly approached.

The Death Penalty.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 15.—Governor Hartranft has issued a warrant for the execution August 18th of Barney McCue, convicted in Lycoming December 4th, of the murder of John Decker.

Some of the papers think Vice-President Wilson "doth protest too much" his indifference to the Presidential office.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Decision in the General Land Office

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Commissioner Burdett in the California case of Delaney against Thomas decides that the land disputed is mineral and did not pass to the State. This rejects Delaney's title. Sixty days are allowed for appeal by Delaney.

In the case of Fitzgerald against the Western Pacific Railroad, he decides in favor of the former. Fitzgerald having obtained a valid pre-emption to the land, and made a homestead entry for it by the advice of the register of the local land office. Instead of filing the pre-emption papers, he subsequently abandoned the homestead and filed it as pre-emptor, alleging a settlement in 1869. The land was withdrawn from the Western Pacific Railroad in 1867. The secretary held that the Fitzgerald homestead entry should not be considered waived or an abandonment of his pre-emption, and his failure of declaration within the time prescribed by law did not work forfeiture in favor of the railroad.

In the case of Dougherty against the California and Oregon railroad, Delano holds that naturalization has retroactive effect so as to be deemed a waiver of all liability to forfeiture. Dougherty was an alien before he offered to prove up and enter the land as pre-emptor. He was admitted to citizenship, but it was objected that at the date of his settlement he was not a qualified pre-emptor. It was held that his naturalization had retroactive effect, placing him on the same footing as one who had filed a declaration of intention before the date of settlement, that so far as the question of citizenship is concerned his settlement was valid and he capable of acquiring title to land.

Counting the King's Money

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Counting funds in the reserve vault of the treasury has been completed and everything found correct. The commissioner is counting bonds deposited by national banks as security for circulation and public deposits.

Gen. Longstreet Wants to Study His Record.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Gen Longstreet to-day had an interview with Secretary Bristow. It is said he desires access to the Confederate archives in the treasury department to make a transcript of documents relative to the battle of Gettysburg.

Condition of the Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON, July 15.—July returns to the department of agriculture were unusually full, showing an improvement in the cotton crop during June in all the cotton States except Texas. State averages are as follows: North Carolina 95, improvement 5 per cent; South Carolina 99, improved 2 per cent; Georgia 97, improved 6 per cent; Florida 101, improved 4 per cent; Alabama 103, improved 1 per cent; Mississippi 103, improved 3 per cent; Louisiana 105, improved 10 per cent; Texas 93, declined 3 per cent; Arkansas 101, improved 14 per cent; Tennessee 109, improved 10 per cent.

The names of several prominent men have been presented for the vacant post of minister to Brussels, but there is reason to believe that Gen Badeau, now consul at London, will be the successor of J Russell Jones.

District Attorney Requested to Resign.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Since last December eight letter carriers of the Washington City postoffice have been detected tampering with and abstracting money from letters. They were promptly dismissed. These cases were referred to District Attorney Fisher, but no indictment was found by the grand jury in any case. This fact has led to complaint against Fisher by the postmaster general, and Secretaries Belknap and Bristow, it is said, have also found fault with the loose administration of his office, in consequence of which his resignation has been requested.

Will They Shoot?

LONDON, July 15.—It is still uncertain whether the American riflemen will shoot at Wimbledon. Gildersleeve will confer with Milman of the council National Rifle Association and a decision may be reached to-night. It is believed Bodine and Yale will refuse to shoot under the present proposition.

Dorregaray Retreats to Catalonia—Alfonsists in Pursuit.

MADRID, July 15.—A special to the Gazette announces that the Carlist general Dorregaray has entered Catalonia by the way of Tremp Valley. He is pursued by Alfonsist generals Weyler and Martinez Campo.

The American Team to Shoot for a British Cup

LONDON, July 15.—Gildersleeve has written letter to Milman, secretary of the council, saying that he accepts the cup offered by the British rifle men for competition by the Americans and will invite members of the team to shoot for it. It is understood this arrangement is independent of the team organization, and possibly some of the members will decline to enter the contest.

House of Commons.

In the house of commons this afternoon Henry Fawcett offered a motion declaring it inexpedient for the Indian government to pay any part of the expenses of the Prince of Wales eastern tour.

Disraeli opposed the motion, because the prince would be the guest of the viceroy.

Gladstone supported Disraeli and the motion was finally rejected.

Bourke, under foreign secretary, in response to the inquiry of Sir John Kennaway, said doubts have been raised respecting the fulfillment of the treaty of 1873 for the suppression of the slave trade on the East coast of Africa. Another treaty has been completed while the Sultan of Zanzibar was here, which he hoped would be fully carried out.

The grant to defray the expenses of the Prince of Wales' visit to India passed by a vote of 338 yeas, 36 nays.

The French Assembly.

PARIS, July 15.—In the assembly to-day M. Savary delivered a speech in which he dwelt upon the necessity of arresting the progress of Bonapartism and attacked M. Rouher, whom he styled the abettor of a coup d'etat.

M. Buffet defended the prefect of police from attacks made upon him yesterday by M Rouher, and said the prefect was perfectly right in pointing out the double danger by which the country was threatened by both revolutionists and Imperialists. The danger from the former was more serious, and the government would keep a watchful eye upon them.

M. Dufaure said the government would display vigilance in regard to Bonapartists. He would not remain a member of any government which neglected that duty.

M. Gambetta called attention to the divergence in statements of the two ministers, and with much warmth accused the government of supporting the Bonapartists, maintaining Bonapartist functionaries in office and following the steps of the Broglie administration.

M. Buffet asserted that a perfect agreement prevailed in the cabinet, especially between M. Dufaure and himself. He considered he was rendering a great service to the country by maintaining old functionaries who were loyal, although they had served under the empire.

The Left violently protested against these remarks of M. Buffet, while the Right and Bonapartists loudly cheered.

After further animated debate, the resolution passed by a vote of 183 to 3, stating that the Assembly, confiding in the government's declarations, passes to the order of the day. The Bonapartists ... had agreed to support the motion were well satisfied with the result. The Left, who abstained from voting, were proportionately displeased. M. [illegible] therefore subsequently affirmed there was no divergence between the ministers. The government had nothing to add or withdraw from declarations it had already made.

Another Great Failure

LONDON, July 15.—Lambert Brothers, coal merchants, have failed. Liabilities $1,250,000.

A Royal Guest.

VIENNA, July 15.—The Emperor of Germany has arrived at Ischl, where he is the guest of the Emperor of Austria.

Heavy Rains and Disastrous Floods in England and Wales.

LONDON, July 15.—Heavy rains have caused much damage in Wales. The river Tegmore has overflowed its banks, inundating the town of Brigen. One life lost and much live stock drowned. The water in a reservoir pond for supplying Monmouthshire canal at Concarvan burst through its banks and thirteen persons were drowned.

There is a flood in Cherwell valley, England. Crops especially hay, suffered severely.

LONDON, July 15.—Much damage has been done in Devonshire by rain storms. The rivers and streams are swollen and at several places inundations have occurred. By the bursting of Monmouth [illegible] reservoir a number of dwellings were entirely destroyed.

LONDON, July 15.—Dispatches from Cardiff say the rivers Taff and Ely have overflowed and adjacent lands are under water for miles. A great quantity of live stock have been washed away. Hundreds of the inhabitants of Grangetown have been removed to Cardiff in boats. A flood is reported at Bath. At last accounts the water was rising rapidly.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—It is reported that P H Sumner, of Oakland, who entered into a conspiracy for the purpose of convicting Rev Mr Parshall, formerly of Oakland, of attempting to procure his assassination, and whose plots were recently exposed by the public press, has left for the East under an assumed name. He has been disposing of his property in such manner as to leave Mr Parshall no redress in the $50,000 libel suit which he has commenced.

A Murderer gets off with Imprisonment and People are Indignant.

SAN DIEGO, July 15.—Montrea, who was indicted for the murder of the Overend family and pleaded not guilty, at the last term of court, was brought into court yesterday afternoon, and his plea of not guilty was withdrawn and he pleaded guilty of manslaughter. He was then sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary and immediately taken on board the steamer Ancon en route to San Quentin. The Union says: When this action became known in the city last evening a most profound feeling was manifested. We do not remember when the community has been more deeply moved. Certain it is that had the people entertained the least suspicion of what had been done at the court house in the afternoon the prisoner would not have been taken to the steamer. Why this action was taken has not yet been explained.

UTAH.

John D Lee Turns State's Evidence, and Implicates Brigham Young, and Other Prominent Mormons.

BEAVER, Utah Territory, July 14.—The trials of Lee and Dames for complicity in the terrible Mountain Meadow massacre of 1857, in which 140 emigrants from Arkansas were mercilessly butchered in cold blood by Mormons, has been set for the 19th of the present month. Judge Boreman has expressed a determination to have no unnecessary delay in the premises, since some very important witnesses, upon whose testimony it is certain a number of convictions will be made, who it was feared could not be found, are now in town and have been subpoenaed by the prosecuting attorney to appear before court and give evidence in the case.

LATER.—John D. Lee, a bishop and colonel and leader in the massacre, has turned State's evidence and will make a full statement in relation thereto. The cause is said to be that he believes he was to be sacrificed by the Mormon church to shield more guilty parties by perjury if necessary. Lee's story will throw additional light upon the massacre to that already received and make it appear that the affair was really more barbarous and cruel than has heretofore been believed by the avowed enemies of the Mormons. It will also prove that the massacre was instigated by Brigham Young as a means of revenge upon the people of Arkansas, who permitted McComb and the husband to his sister to murder a saint by the name of Pratt, who had persuaded the woman to desert her husband and join Brigham's church, and then go free, though it was clearly established that Pratt had persuaded the woman to desert her husband, and ostensibly to visit her father and mother in New Orleans, and eloped with her from the home of her parents. Witnesses from Southern Utah, who were concerned in the massacre, evince great animosity against Lee. There is said to be plenty of witnesses here to corroborate Lee's statements, which will convict Dames and many high officials of the crime of murder, and probably send them to the gallows or to the penitentiary for life. Among the witnesses are some parties who actually took active part in the massacre. It is also stated that in this case Brigham Young will not escape the penalties of the law he has so flagrantly outraged by the shedding of innocent blood.

LATER.—John D. Lee is at work writing his statement. Several witnesses, too nearly connected with the massacre, have become alarmed, and left town. Everybody is anxiously awaiting developments to be made next week.

House Burned

SNOHOMISH CITY, July 1.—The house of Nel Byer Gregory, about three miles above this place, with all its contents, was burned down last night. Mr Gregory was not able to save anything, and had barely time to save his wife and children.

A NOVEL STEAMBOAT WAR.—Some three years since William I. Garner, the great cotton goods manufacturer and admiral of the New York Yacht Club, whose name is familiar to all Western merchants, went into the steamboat business. He resides during the summer at Staten Island, six miles down the bay, and he conceived the idea of buying a line of boats of his own running to and from the city. This has brought him into competition with the Vanderbilts, who have run a line of boats to the island for years. The latter a few days ago obtained an injunction prohibiting Garner from running his boats on the ground of having no charter. Thereupon Garner transferred all his interest to his agent, a Mr. Pendleton. As soon as this is done Pendleton will sell the line to a friend for $1 more or less, and the latter will in turn transfer it to some other party. In this manner Mr Garner intends to keep the line changing hands as often as a new injunction is issued until the legislature meets next winter, when he will endeavor to procure a charter. This is certainly a novel mode of beating the court.

THE DRY SEASON OF BRAZIL.—As an illustration of the extreme dryness of the soil during the dry season in Brazil, it is stated that in June all vegetation ceases, the seeds being then ripe or nearly so. In July the leaves begin to turn yellow and fall off, in August an extent of many thousands of square leagues present the aspect of a European winter, but without snow, the trees being completely stripped of their leaves, the plants that have grown in abundance in the wilderness drying up and serving as a kind of hay for the sustenance of numerous herds of cattle. This is the period most favorable for the preparation of the coffee that grows upon the mountains. The beans are picked and laid on the ground, which gives forth no moisture, but on the contrary absorbs it, and being surrounded by an atmosphere possessing the same desiccating properties, the coffee dries rapidly without moulding.

LITTLE BREECHES OUTDONE

HOW A YOUNGSTER STRAYED OFF, STARVED FOR THREE DAYS AND WAS SCOOPED IN FROM A RATTLESNAKES DEN

[From the Port Jervis (N. Y.) Union.]

In Blooming Grove, Pike county, lives the family of a man named Charles Dunning, consisting of himself, his wife and three children aged six, four and two and a half years. On Monday of last week the children went out to play in the fields. After being absent some time, the two oldest returned weeping to the house and said they had lost their little brother in the woods. Mrs Dunning, thinking she could find the child without difficulty, went out into the woods and looked for some distance around, calling him by name. Being unable to discover any trace of him she became alarmed, and hastened back to the village and spread the news of the child's loss. Blooming Grove is composed mainly of the dwellings of the employes of Jacob Kleinhans's tannery, and when the news of the little boy's loss became general the greatest excitement prevailed. Business was stopped at the tannery and forty men started to scour the woods in search of the child. All the rest of the day they tramped through the woods without finding any trace of the missing little one, and all night pine torches flashed through the forest aisles, frightening from their perches myriads of night birds, which answered with their shrill cries the shouts of the men calling the child. During the night a catamount was shot. Morning dawned upon an unsuccessful party of sad hearted villagers. After a short rest the hunt was again commenced, and all day Tuesday and all Tuesday night was prosecuted diligently, but with no better result. The opinion now was general that the child had been killed and eaten by the wild beasts, which still haunt the Pike county wilderness.

The search was continued however, at the urgent appeal of the mother of the boy. Toward noon on Wednesday one of the party started away in a direction which had not been investigated as yet. Passing about a hundred yards through a laurel swamp two miles from the village he came out in an open space about thirty feet square. The opening was walled in on every side by a thick growth of laurel, and was well filled with large rocks marked with crevices and large seams, resembling an abandoned quarry. The instant the man stepped into the place he was startled by the sound of a rattlesnake, giving him warning to pause. Looking down he saw the snake coiled up, about four feet away, in readiness to spring at the first provocation. The backwoodsman had seen such things before, and picking up a club despatched the snake at one blow. He was not prepared for the developments that followed, however. Glancing about him he made the unpleasant discovery that he had intruded in a place pre-empted by a colony of rattlesnakes; in short he was in a den of deadly reptiles. From crevices and crevasses on the rocks and on the ground he saw numbers of them lying in various positions bathing their slim proportions in the sunshine. The man made up his mind that the place had no particular charm for him, and was about to beat hasty retreat, when his eyes fell on a scene that transfixed him with horror.

On a low flat rock not more than six feet from where the man stood lay the apparently lifeless form of the little boy they had been looking for so long. Stretched by his side, not more than three inches away from him, was a huge rattlesnake, while near his feet two more lay coiled up, all evidently undisturbed by the presence of the child. While the man did not suppose for an instant the boy was alive, he determined to rescue the body from so horrible a sepulchre, and with well directed blows from his club killed the three snakes that held possession of the child. Every blow was responded to by the blood curdling din of rattles from the snakes that lay near the rock. While he was examining the ground between him and the child to see if any of the reptiles lay on that side, he was startled to see the supposed dead infant rise with an effort to a sitting posture, stare wildly about with a crazed, haggard look, and then sink back upon the rock. The next instant the stout hearted woodsman had sprung upon the rock and seizing the child, bore him away quickly from the loathsome den, and in a few minutes placed him in the arms of his distracted mother amid the general rejoicing of the whole village. The child was unconscious and is yet lying in a critical condition, being delirious with fever brought on by the unparalleled hardship and privation he suffered in his three days wandering alone in the forest, before which the stout-hearted hunter would have quailed.

THE SUMNER PARSHALL CONSPIRACY

The dispatches mention the disappearance from San Francisco under an assumed name of Sumner, who had been sued by Rev Parshall for libel. The particulars of the case were published in the Post on the 3d of July as follows:

Mr Parshall was tried by a church council in October and November 1873 for lascivious conduct with certain members of his flock. He was convicted, and left town, going to Vallejo and finally settling at Healdsburg, Sonoma county. On the 23d of October last the community was startled by a report that P H Sumner, a real estate agent, who had been a prominent member of Parshall's church at Oakland, had been the victim of an attempted assassination and had been taken to his home severely wounded. He kept his bed for several weeks, being attended by friends and physicians. He was interviewed by reporters, and showed anonymous letters warning him of harm if he did not stop his persecution of Parshall. He finally made an ante mortem statement that he was waylaid by two men on the night in question, and on his refusing to sign a compact to set Parshall all right was assaulted as before mentioned. Instead of dying after this statement Sumner went east with his family, and during his absence Parshall commenced a suit against the Post for the publication of Sumner's ante mortem statement.

Sumner returned in May last saying that he had obtained a good deal of information about Parshall in the East, which would help the Post in the libel suit. He called on Colonel W H L Barnes, who was the conductor of the case for the Post, and showed him a number of anonymous letters which he claimed to have received during September 1874, all breathing a spirit of hostility on account of his opposition to Parshall. Subsequently he told Barnes he had discovered the man who attacked him, and within a day or so brought to Barnes' office a man named Purvis. The latter acknowledged having committed the assault on Sumner at the request of Parshall, and that Parshall was an old friend of his, and worked on his sympathies until he consented to commit the deed. Purvis also named as his accomplice one J. C. Rogerson, of Oakland, a clerk in the employ of Bowen Bros. He showed letters purporting to be from Parshall relative to the contemplated assassination, which were in the same handwriting as those produced by Sumner.

Capt. Lees' detective was called into the case and made a critical examination of Purvis in the whole affair. He discovered a discrepancy which aroused his suspicion. The upshot of the whole matter is that Purvis, and subsequently Sumner, being confronted with the evidence obtained, finally confessed that the whole affair, including the murderous attack by Sumner, the anonymous letters received by him and the supposed correspondence between Purvis and Parshall, was a conspiracy to ruin Parshall.

The Post was informed of the disclosures on account of there being a libel suit against it by Parshall. Parshall was notified by telegraph, and on his arrival it was determined to proceed at once against Sumner. A suit was commenced against him in the XXth district court by Parshall, with damages laid at $5,000 for libel contained in the so called ante mortem statement.

David Lewis was knocked down and run over by a runaway team near Albany a few days ago.

FROM THE NORTH COAST

YALE B C, July 5 1875.

The trip from New Westminster to Yale, at the head of navigation on the Fraser river, about 95 miles, is most interesting. The course of the river for more than half the way is through the Cascade range of mountains. These mountains are from 500 to 6,000 feet in height. On the highest points considerable snow is seen, and some portions of it will remain all the year. More than an average quantity of snow fell on this range during the winter. The large quantity of warm rains that have lately fallen causing the snow to melt rapidly, accounts for the unusual rise and overflow of the Fraser. At the present high stage of the water the river appears to additional advantage. The current is very swift, and one of the rapids difficult to overcome. At the "Devil's Bridge," 13 miles this side of Yale, it took the steamer Royal City with 100 lbs of steam, and under charge of Capt Insley, an experienced and competent pilot, 20 minutes to make a foot of headway.

THE SCENERY OF THE RIVER,

Including the large body of water, the swift current, the powerful rapids, the extensive forests, the bold headlands, the immense range of the Cascade mountains and their towering peaks covered with snow, near at hand and far in the distance, are sights of more than ordinary interest. In fine weather, such as the present, the scenery appears to great advantage and is inexpressibly grand.

SETTLEMENTS

Before reaching the Cascade range, there are some extensive valleys of excellent prairie lands settled by successful farmers and stock men. At the different landings general stores are kept for supplying the settlers and Indians with goods. The Roman Catholic church has an extensive mission for Indians thirty miles above New Westminster. Not less than 2,000 Indians assemble there once a year from various parts of the province—a number come more than one hundred miles—to attend confession and enjoy other rites of the church. This annual gathering is just terminated. The steamer took on board about fifty of them at this place, returning to their homes, some of them living on the Thompson river, a long way from the mission.

THE CATHOLIC MISSION

On the Fraser river is a large establishment. There is a school for Indian boys and one for girls, 25 children in each; a large church building, a private residence for the Sisters and for the clergy. There is one small saw and grist mill for supplying local wants, and a number of huts for the resident Indians. The former buildings are old, in bad repair, and not much taste displayed. The orchard is an exception; the grounds are well attended to, the flowers and fruit trees are cultivated and excellent fruit in large quantities is raised. The resident priest was very polite and attentive to our little party. Father Harvies, of Westminster, who takes an active part in superintending this mission, is very popular with the general public and zealous in furthering mission work among the Indians.

There are a number of Indian villages along the banks of the Fraser in the Cascade range who have comparatively comfortable huts, who make a living by fishing, hunting and doing rough work for the settlers; they are peaceable and trustworthy. They do most of the deck hand work on the river steamers and sometimes fill responsible situations.

THE MOUNTAIN ROAD

From Yale as far as Boston bar, 25 miles, is overflowed by the Fraser river at several points—in one or two places as much as eight feet deep of water covers the road. Difficult portages had to be made to convey passengers and mails, and additional stages used. The road is seriously injured at several places. The river has been falling rapidly during the last few days, so that the road will soon be dry, repaired and travel resume the usual course. This is one of the finest mountain roads on the Pacific coast. It was built to meet the wants of the miners and settlers on the discovery of gold in Cariboo in 1862. It is a credit to the energy, enterprise and public spirit of the governor of the crown colony at that time, and is an indirect pledge of the like qualities that will yet be developed in British Columbia on a much more extensive scale.

STOCK COUNTRY

After getting through the Cascade range, including the Fraser and Thompson rivers, the grazing country is reached, known as the bunch grass ranges, celebrated for raising the finest beef and mutton known to stock men and butchers. A number of this class of men have made, and are still making, fortunes at this business. In consequence of the new road being built by the Provincial Government from Yale to New Westminster, stock men will be able to bring beef cattle from the "bunch grass" country to Victoria at easy stages and trifling cost. These will come into competition with cattle to the same market from the Dalles and the Upper Columbia by way of Portland and the Sound.

DOMINION DAY—FIRST OF JULY

A visitor to Victoria would naturally expect that the anniversary of the confederation of British Columbia with Canada would be a high day in Victoria at least. Not so, however. Government offices and public stores were closed, but the only public demonstrations noticeable were a number of flags hoisted and the firemen's picnic, held in a grove adjoining Beacon Hill. From the fact that this and similar picnics are kept up till 2 or 3 o'clock the following morning, some idea can be formed of the wisdom of parents, the general character of the youth and the social habits of the community in countenancing such irregular and improper hours out in the bush a mile from the city.

THE FOURTH OF JULY

The members of the St. Andrew's Society take advantage of the popularity of this day to hold their annual picnic. It is observed as a half holiday by business houses. The day was very favorable. There were 1,000 persons on the grounds of the society at 2 P M. All classes were represented, from the governor down to the Indian and Chinese. The appearance of the gathering was favorable to the intelligence and refinement of the people. The conduct of the young people was very commendable in point of training respect for parents and seniors. The boys and girls of Victoria and the youth generally will bear favorable comparison with the same classes in Oregon or California. The Fourth of July being on Sunday, the picnic was held on Saturday, the third. The usual Scotch games were indulged in, consisting of pitching quoits, throwing the large stone, large and light hammers, foot races and various kinds of leaping, closing with dancing, kept up till twelve o'clock, and would have been continued till the morning had the anniversary been held on Monday. Such hours in such places are not calculated to promote morality and should be discouraged by parents and the friends of good order.

YALE

The town of Yale does not appear to advantage just now. The teams and pack trains from Cariboo are all blockaded up the country by reason of the overflow from the Fraser river on the road between Boston Bar and Yale. The consequence is that the forwarding business is at a stand still for the present. The town is remarkably quiet, one or two stores are closed and few Indians are coming in for trading until the river falls. Fishing at this place has not commenced yet. The Hudson Bay Co have a good store. Their principal business here is forwarding goods to their stations up north. Oppenheimer Bros have a large store. They do an extensive business with the miners. Their sales usually amount to $300,000 a year. The business last year was not so profitable as some former ones.

NORTHWEST

The Washington Republican received $93,000 for publishing the delinquent tax list of that city. The net profits on the job were $75,000.

OREGON

Wool is quoted at 25 cents per pound at Albany.

The Virtue quartz mill cleaned up last week $9,836, which was run into three gold bars.

Clackamas county has reduced its indebtedness within the past year down to $3,736 22.

Mrs David Logan sold on the 13th inst. the Logan farm in Yamhill county, consisting of 640 acres. The purchasers were four new comers into the State and the price paid was $40 per acre, half cash down and balance on short time with approved security.

The following masters were elected at a recent meeting of Clackamas county granges as representatives to the State convention to be held in Portland next September: A. Nichols, Highland No. 70; J W Offield, Mountain View 142; F W. Foster, Harding 122; C W Bryant, Oswego 175; N W Randall, Warner 117.

Parties who recently returned to Silverton from a prospecting tour report the discovery of a large vein of quartz on the headwaters of the Santiam and Molalla, beyond Panther rock. Specimens brought in by these parties assayed $15 to the ton of silver. And now others will do some prospecting in hopes of being equally as successful.

At a stated meeting of Cornelius Lodge, No 40, I. O. O. F., held at their hall on last Tuesday evening, D D G M, H. C Raymond installed the following officers for the ensuing term: Wm H Parker, N G; J De Letts, V G; J E. Bailey, R S; L. Kelso, Treasurer; O Martin, R S N G; T R. THE TERRITORIES

Gov Bennett says the Silver City Avalanche of the 10th, is quite ill.

New potatoes were dug in some of the early gardens in Olympia last week.

The whereabouts of Alonzo Tilfred is respectfully inquired for by his father, Mr Alonzo Tilfred of Boise City.

Harry Hazlewood, the special policeman who was stabbed at Olympia by a drunken man on the morning of the 4th, is able to walk about.

The Boise Statesman of the 11th inst. says: At about 11 o'clock Thursday night this city and environs were visited by a terrific storm. First came lightning flashes accompanied by loud peals of thunder, then the rain came down in such torrents that it seemed that the floodgates of heaven had been opened, and that we were to have a second deluge. At many places the water covered the ground to the depth of several inches.

THE FARMERS' CLUB AT ROSEBURG COMES TO THE FRONT

ROSEBURG, July 11, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

As the time nears for the congressional election, politics gradually assumes its place amongst other questions of interest to the people. In the Farmers' Club, which met at Roseburg on the 11th ult., the following preamble and resolution were passed without a dissenting voice:

WHEREAS, Great good resulted from the independent action of the people during the last election, and vast reduction in high fees, high salaries, amounting to a large sum total; therefore be it

Resolved, That the necessity which broke party ties asunder and organized the Independent party in this State, has not ceased to exist, but still demands the untrammeled action of the people, until no salary shall be paid which is unjust, no contract let for keeping the insane which is exorbitant, no appropriation for the penitentiary to exceed $10,000 per annum, no supernumeraries around the department of State to eat out the substance of the people, no offices created for party purposes and retained at a cost of thousands of dollars per annum to the people, no salaries allowed in plain violation of the letter of the constitution,—until these ends are reached the objects for which the Independent party was organized will not have been accomplished.

The following resolution was also passed:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the president of this club to place such facts and figures before the people of this county as will best subserve the objects for which the Independent party was organized.

P. Peters, Flinn Cooper and Narcess Laraunt were appointed on said committee.

FIELD AND HIS OCEAN TELEGRAPHS.—A London letter to the New York Tribune says: Mr Cyrus Field sails for New York to-day—on a visit, doubtless. He has been feeling the pulse of the British public with a view to that Pacific cable which he thinks it the mission of his next few years to lay. For this he wants the trifling sum of two millions sterling, and he will beyond question get it, sooner or later. Probably sooner than later people here have made up their minds that Mr Field is a man who will have his way in such matters. Meantime he has plenty of other telegraphic business to occupy himself with. The prosperity of the Anglo-American Company under its reduced tariff is not such as to give unmixed satisfaction to its stockholders and directors—especially with the near prospect of a brisk competition with the Direct Cable Company. It is understood the latter will begin at a shilling a word. At present there is said to be a flaw in its cable, in about one thousand fathoms of water this side of Newfoundland, which the Faraday has gone to repair. That done we shall be likely to have some experience in cheap telegraphy tried—for the benefit of the public and of stockholders as well. The two shilling rate does not reach what I may call the social strata. It is still too high. The average husband will not pay fifty cents a word every other morning to inquire for the health of his wife on the other side of the Atlantic. Whether he will pay half that may be a question. That he will pay something, inland telegraphing has proved; it only remains to find out how much.

OVER-NICE ABOUT THE SUGAR.—A young attache to one of the embassies, now a distinguished diplomatist, was invited to dine with Count Demidoff. On the return of the company to the salon, groups were formed here and there, and when the coffee was handed around, the young attache, carried away by the interest of the conversation in which he was engaged, took a lump of sugar from the sugar bowl with his fingers when the servant presented the tray to him. Count Demidoff, indignant at this breach of etiquette, signed to the lackey to throw the rest of the contents of the sugar bowl out of the window. The lesson was a severe one, and struck dumb those who witnessed it. But the spirited young offender, while understanding perfectly the insult intended, preserved an imperturbable calmness. He slowly drained the contents of his cup and, walking deliberately to the window, he fixed his eyes on M Demidoff and tossed carelessly into the street the cup and priceless Sevres and the gold spoon. "I did not know that such was the usage," he said to the count. And then he recommenced his conversation with an air of perfect nonchalance.—Laferrere's Memoirs.

HOW SHE ENDURED IT.—That was a sharp reply of Mrs Beecher, the other day, when she answered some questions as to how she managed to endure all the anxieties and fatigues of the trial, in this way: "To be mad all through is a good tonic." Beecher himself couldn't have improved on that.

"Fellow-travelers," said a colored preacher, "ef I had been eatin' dried apples for a week, and den took to drinking for a monf, I couldn't feel more swelled up dan I am dis minnit wid pride and vanity at seein' such full 'tendance har."

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1875.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH OUR BOYS?

A question which is pressing upon parents in Oregon, and giving many of them greater anxiety than any other question, is, "What shall we do with our boys?" The farmers have a place and an occupation for such of their sons as are discreet enough to be willing to take agricultural pursuits for their occupation; but there are many who make the mistake of setting their hearts upon some other business, and, mistake though it is, it controls their conduct and their destiny. And for the townspeople, there are comparatively few who are able to provide anything for their boys to do. The result is that boys grow up in idleness, and their idle brains being, according to an old and truthful adage, workshops of the devil, they become hoodlums, give their parents inexpressible trouble, secure places in the records of the criminal courts, and at last perform the first honest labor of their lives in a suit of striped clothes in the State penitentiary. Many a boy has gone that road who was not more vicious by nature than others who, having something to do in boyhood, have grown up to be useful and exemplary members of society. What is to be done to remedy this growing evil? What is to be done to save the boys and the community? The natural answer will be: Put them to a trade; apprentice them. Certainly; but when, how? Put them to a trade when the trades are so limited in their demands, and so fully supplied that there is no room for any more? To whom shall the boys be apprenticed when everybody having any business of a mechanical character has ten applications for places for boys when he can furnish only one situation. The trouble is, we are a people without manufactories, without work-shops, without the capacity for furnishing occupation for boys who would learn a useful trade if they had an opportunity. The percentages of gain to accrue from home manufacturing have not all been counted when we have mentioned the various money items of improvement in value of land, increase of population, of home consumption and of circulating medium. The percentage of boys saved from lives of vice and crime, of parents saved from sorrow and premature death; of families saved from disgrace; these must be counted. And how must they count? No one can reckon it in numbers, for it means more than numbers, as many a parent who reads this will bear witness. There can be no stronger argument urged for the building up of domestic industries than that they would furnish opportunities for our boys to learn trades and something for them to do when their apprenticeships are past.

The New Orleans, Picayune says: "We do not believe that the Ohio platform can fairly be considered the representative platform of the National Democratic party. It is evident to the most casual observer that Democratic [illegible] that platform with vehemence and indignation. But it seems more than probable that it will create a division in the party, and the question is, can the Democratic party stand a division?" And the Milwaukee News, a Democratic organ, adds: "Every paper money system of the world has been a failure. A cash business cannot be done on a credit basis, and giving a promise to pay a debt does not pay it. There is nothing but failure and disaster in the system, and the instruction of the country in this hard problem, which they are working out by a toilsome process, will not be delayed by the proclamations of demagogues and political empirics."

Archbishop Purcell publishes a card in the Catholic Telegraph, of Cincinnati, in reply to two questions which have been mooted. The first is whether he opposed the creation of an American cardinal. To this the answer is given that Archbishop Purcell did not make any opposition. The second question is, "Was Archbishop Purcell not made a cardinal because of his having opposed the definition of the Pope's infallibility?" To this the answer is, No; for Archbishop McCloskey also opposed it. He was one of some ten American bishops who signed a paper, addressed to the Holy Father, deprecating the definition, as did 70 other bishops. The position of a portion of the American Catholic episcopate at the Vatican Council is thus authoritatively declared.

Still another Southern journal raises its voice against rag money. The Mobile Register, edited by Col. John Forsyth, says: "When times are hard and the people are moneyless, the capitalists also feel the hardship—for while the people are unable to borrow, the capitalists are unable to lend. Irredeemable currency is the trouble in both cases. The inflation proposes to remedy the evil by deepening it. It is drink to the drunkard, and fuel to the flame. The plan of our fathers and of the whole civilized world is the best—hard money."

The one hundred and sixth Conference of the Methodist Church of Ireland was opened in the city of Belfast June 16, under the Presidency of the Rev. W. Morley Punshon, LL. D. The Connexional School at Dublin reported 180 pupils, and the Methodist College at Belfast 271 students. The endowment fund of the latter is now £19,880. The ministers and lay members of the Preparatory Committee were entertained at a public breakfast by the Mayor of Belfast.

Fortune appears, at last, to have turned against Don Carlos, and the crime against civilization, of which he is the central figure and the impersonation, seems drawing to its close. It is to be regretted that when it is ended the peace that is to follow, will be a peace that means retrogression. Castelar and liberty, to Alfonso and Bourbon tyranny, is the cancellation of two centuries in a single day. Spain goes back from the nineteenth to the seventeenth century.

The storm grows louder and louder around the Democracy of Ohio. Rag-money don't go down with the people of that State, and the Democracy are awaking to a realization of the mistake they have made. Their own party in the other States, and a large part, if not the larger part of it, even in Ohio, is outspoken and bitter against the platform adopted by them.

United States Attorney Bliss says the trial of H. B. Claflin, for smuggling silks, will not take place before October.

The Philadelphia Times puts its Beecher-Tilton items under the appropriate heading: "Echoes from the Brooklyn Plague."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

SOCIALISTIC, COMMUNISTIC, MUTUALISTIC AND FINANCIAL FRAGMENTS. By William B. Greene. Boston: Lee and Shepard. From J. K. Gill & Co., booksellers, Portland.

The title of this little book will convey to persons of general reading an idea of its character, only the radicalism of the author is of a milder type than one might infer. He is a radical who is always candid, generally satirical, and sometimes respectably conservative. The book consists of a number of essays, letters, etc., written by Col. Greene at various times during a period commencing twenty years or more ago, and now for the first time gathered up and arranged with reference to the subjects treated. Some of the oldest of these papers read like fulfilled prophecy in the light of subsequent history. A paper written 25 years ago on the subject of banking, describes the present banking system in its main features. The author, although a man of some note in the "Labor Reform Leagues," and although he has figured somewhat conspicuously with the "Internationals" in 1872 and 1873, opposes the theories of communism, which he says "implies the absolute supremacy of the chief, the utter subordination of the associates;" and he advocates what he calls Mutualism, whose distinguishing feature is the division and classification of labor, and "mutual and economical distribution of tasks," whereby "unlimited individualism," whatever that may be, is developed. In general purpose the Communism which the writer condemns and the Mutualism which he commends are one and the same, the points of difference being in method, and the point of unity that the shiftless and thriftless are to have the benefit of the enterprise and industry of the rest. He says Mutualism is the negation of Communism. To most minds it will appear to be merely Communism systematised and civilized. The general drift of this book is indicated by what we have said of its treatment of one subject. The author is a modern reformer in everything, and does not hesitate to avow his belief in the various new gospels that promise to make the world happy in these latter days. But his thoughts are not of the nebulous and indefinite kind that characterize the writings of most of the "advanced thinkers." He is clear, definite, incisive, forcible, and his essays will be read with pleasure by people who do not, as well as people who do, agree with him; and a great many who may find no difficulty in rejecting his theories will find it far less easy to answer his reasoning.

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WM. ELLERY CHANNING. Boston: American Unitarian Association.

We have received from the publishers a copy of Channing's Complete Works. This great man belongs to America, and to Christian civilization throughout the world rather than to any individual party or sect. He is called by Baron Bunsen "a prophet of the Christian consciousness of the future," and Coleridge says "he has the love of wisdom and the wisdom of love." The Methodist Quarterly Review, seven years after his death, said "such a man as Dr. Channing must have stood majestically in advance of his age, whenever and wherever he lived. He lived, according to the present generation at least, in the best age of the world, and yet was far in front of it. If it reaches his radiant position in two centuries, the signs of the times are certainly quite illusive. * * * When the later and better light which is yet to bless our desolate race shall come, it will fall with bright illustration on the character of this rare man, and on the great aims of his life." The writings of a man who, himself representing a school of theology that was not considered orthodox, [illegible] ing minds of orthodox theology, must have been indeed a "rare man."

The volume before us contains not only the theological writings and discourses of Channing, but also his papers on Slavery and War, and his essays on Milton, Napoleon Bonaparte, and various other subjects. The American Unitarian Association are proposing to furnish the book to ministers of other denominations, and divinity students gratis, and to all others at the price of one dollar.

The address of Dr. F. A. Bailey, of Hillsboro, before the graduating class of 1875, Medical Department, Wallamet University, has been published in pamphlet. It is full of thought and sentiment, presenting the duties, responsibilities and progress of the medical profession, in a way to impress them upon the minds of the young gentlemen just entering its portals.

CITY.

A ABOUT A CANINE —Residents of the ... portion of the city were thrown into a great excitement a few days ago, over a New Foundland dog which was supposed to have the hydrophobia For some time the dog attacked an old gentleman and would doubtless have bitten him badly had it not been for the timely interference of one who happened to be passing He struck it several times over the head and caused the animal to loose his hold on the old gentleman and ran off During the noise and excitement the cry of "mad dog" got started and was eagerly caught up by the neighbors who came rushing to the scene The cry was circulated like "stop thief" and in less time than it takes to tell something less than fifty persons were in full chase Among those in pursuit were two policemen who discharged the contents of their pistols at the fleeing, excited animal, none of which took effect Others followed the example of the M. P.'s, and a number of shots were fired at the supposed mad canine To escape pursuit and the stray shots the dog ran some distance below the city and the excitement subsided. Late in the evening the owner of the animal heard a familiar whine at the gate, and on going out found his favor waiting for admittance He opened the gate and was delighted to find that the animal did not have the hydrophobia, neither had any of the stray shots taken effect

FILL IT FULL'—Mr Frank S ... of this city, is now in Philadelphia on business. He has written a letter recently to the Advocate in relation to the coming Centennial In which he says 'Now is the time for Oregon to make a showing of her products, and while our State is ably represented by Hon Mr Dufur we cannot expect him to provide an exhibition for us Every farmer should bear this in mind, as soon as the grain is ripe save a few bushels of the best wheat, oats, or barley, or rye together with the amount the soil produced per acre or per fifty acres—Our wheat in particular is a subject of great interest in fact we do raise the best wheat in the United States. Our fruits command attention wherever exhibited. Apples, pears and plums in particular. To place these on exhibition here it will be necessary to get large glass jars and preserve them whole in alcohol. Please don't let us forget the pound pears or egg plums or the small apples. I wish we had a thousand bushels on exhibition here. It would be the means of providing us with a large and valuable emigration Besides fruit and grain we must show wool and salmon, and the precious metals, and in addition we should show our mechanical skill. A space will be set aside for Oregon let us fill it."

SUICIDE.—The San Francisco Chronicle of ... says T Steele Shapcott committed suicide during Friday night, in his room at ... Geary street. It was noticed that his room remained closed all day yesterday, and no answer was given to repeated knocks Last evening at 8 o clock, Officer Sullivan was called in and broke open the door On the bed, with his face down, the deceased was found with his throat cut from ear to ear A razor covered with blood, was found near his body. A package of letters were found addressed to "Col Professor T Steele Shapcott," signed by "Hal," a young lady residing in a town of Oregon, where the deceased was a long time a resident The letters are ... and contain no clue to the cause of the deed. The coroner took charge of the body. The unfortunate subject of the above was at one time a resident of this city He came here from Montana in 1872 and opened a ... on First street, which he continued during the summer and fall of that year By profession he was a musician, but followed ... for a living while in Montana He was an Englishman, of portly presence, full of life and good humor, and the last man in the world who would be suspected of taking his own life

THE EXCURSION.—The trip to Oregon City and back by the Taylor street M E Sunday school, last night, was a very enjoyable affair. About four hundred persons embarked on the steamer Willamette Chief, at 7 o'clock, with a band of music, and steamed up the river in fine style. The boat stopped at Oswego for half an hour, and the crowd gratified their curiosity by a visit to the iron works at that place which were in full blast The party arrived at Oregon City at 9 o'clock and remained until ..., and returned home at half past 11, all feeling firstrate The trip was enlivened with an abundance of vocal and instrumental music and a few speeches were made Abundance of ice cream, coffee, etc., were furnished to all who desired it, and no one seemed to be tired or hungry, not even the youngest. As a Sunday school excursion it was very successful

PASSENGER LIST —The steamer John L Stephens sailed from this port for San Francisco last evening at 7 o'clock, carrying away the following passengers - Mrs. J T Crews Frank Stroud, H. Horner and wife, Miss Maggie Mulcahy, ... Dwyer, Mrs L. D Aiken, and 15 in steerage.

THE RAILROAD PARTY —The railroad party, who returned from the Dalles on Wednesday evening, started early yesterday morning for the Sound via Kalama and Tacoma They ... to the city on Saturday evening and at an early hour Sunday morning, take a special train on the west side, and go out to the end of the road From St. Joe the party will take a private conveyance and drive over ... At that point a special train will be ... and the party will be taken through ... City. In a few days they will start for the mountains by way of the proposed route of the Oregon Pacific Railway Messrs ... S G Reed, Gov A C Gibbs, ... Teilsen, and others, will accompany the distinguished dignitaries.

SURVEYING PARTY —Mr R A Habersham and party did not go up the river yesterday morning to make a survey of the channel of the Willamette, as we announced yesterday The party will probably start this morning The party will consist of Mr R A Habersham, U S assistant engineer, R. M Tabor, ... man; George W Upton leveller, N. S. ... level rod man T. Clopton, transit man, J. N. Sutton and T L Holmes ... Rodney Morris and Frank Effinger ... Howard Ridgely and Jas Rosen chain men Edward Young, cook, and George Thomas, assistant cook

WILL ATTEND —The officers of the Linn County Agricultural Society will be present on the occasion of Willamette's anniversary celebration, at which time the silver plates awarded to the company by that society will be presented with appropriate ceremonies The fire companies have accepted officially the invitation extended by No 1 to join in the parade, and otherwise celebrate the day with their brother firemen

FRUIT DRYER —Messrs John A Bradley and F. E. Martin, of this city have purchased a piece of land in East Portland and will put up an establishment for the introduction of the Plummer Fruit Dryer The machinery is on the Read, now due These gentlemen will push matters as soon as the necessary machinery arrives.

CHILDREN'S MEETING —This evening there will be a union childrens meeting held at the M E church commencing at 7 o clock At 8 o'clock the young converts will be invited to take part in the meeting as a praise meeting. The musicians are requested to be present at 7 o'clock

ST VINCENT'S HOSPITAL —Speaking of the dedication of St Vincent's Hospital which will take place next Monday the Sentinel says

It is to be hoped that every Catholic in Portland will be present at the dedication of St Vincent's Hospital. In order to accommodate laboring classes the dedication will not take place until during the afternoon and surely every person can devote a few hours to such a laudable purpose. This institution of charity —the first in the State—is one in which not only Catholics but every citizen is interested and we also hope that the citizens of Portland will take pride in being present at the inauguration of this long needed institution Let every citizen take at least sufficient interest in this hospital so honorable to the enterprise and liberality of the citizens of Portland as to be present at its formal opening The spacious building itself is worth a visit and conjointly with the music and refreshments which will be furnished in the hospital grounds a most pleasant afternoon can be passed. Seats will be prepared in the grounds for the accommodation of a thousand people and a committee of ladies have kindly undertaken to provide fruits ice cream cakes candies and confectionery for all who desire to spend a pleasant hour in the shady groves that surround the hospital building

FOR EASTERN OREGON —From the Salem Record we learn that Col T S Lang was so much pleased with his visit to Eastern Oregon and convinced that the climate of that region will agree with his health that he has purchased the ranch of W J Herren on Willow creek Umatilla county, and will stock it with sheep He already has one band of one thousand head on the way across the Cascade mountains and expects to send more soon He investigated the profits of sheep husbandry there with the most satisfactory results and promises to give us a communication treating of this subject at length Col Lang will be a valuable acquisition to Umatilla county for he is an enthusiast in the stock business He will also take up there to keep through the coming winter the blooded horses belonging to Nesmith & Lang He will probable remove there himself in September

HORSE KILLED — Yesterday morning as Samuel Johnson and Yancey Dukes were riding along the Foster road, some distance from this city the horses became frightened and ran away They brought up suddenly after running a long distance by coming in contact with a log from which protruded a sharp pointed stump the point of which caught one of the horses in such a manner as to cut him so terribly in the bowels as to cause almost instant death The other animal escaped with but few scratches The wagon was entirely broken up and the men managed to come out in good condition The defunct horse was valued at about $150

FOR GERMANY —Mr G Bettman of the firm of S Rosenblatt & Co Eugene sailed last evening on the steamer for his home in Germany He has been in this country over fifteen years and now takes leave of absence to visit his relatives He returns in the Fall

THE LASH IN CANADA

A MISERABLE WRETCH RECEIVES TWENTY LASHES—A HORRIBLE CRIME'S PARTIAL EXPIATION

[From the Toronto Leader July 1]

On June 1st James Warren was sentenced to three months imprisonment and forty lashes, to be delivered in two batches of twenty each for the crime of rape upon a little girl Yesterday morning the prisoner received the first twenty lashes A little after nine o clock the triangles were erected in the central hall, and at half past nine o clock the prisoner, James Warren was brought from his cell He walked into the hall with a firm step and removed his coat waistcoat and shirt and stepped to the triangle to which he was hung strapped, so that it was impossible for him to move a limb The prisoners were then called in and ranged round three sides of the hall There were present the sheriff the deputy sheriff Dr Richardson the jail surgeon and the reporters of the morning papers

At 9 30 the sheriff took the cat, which consisted of nine lashes of which cord each having a knot on the end and handed it to the executioner, who was one of the prisoners of the jail Time was given by the sheriff and Mr Ewing, turn key, was stationed as counter The executioner showed some nervousness but on receiving encouragement struck the first blow upon the prisoner's shoulder high up and close to the leather collar which was placed round his neck The second blow which was delivered with the full strength of the executioner's arm fell in the same place and the executioner who now appeared to have full command of his powers, delivered the third blow in the same locality The sheriff here whispered to him strike lower, and the next blow was given below the former ones The fifth was given still lower, and the sixth was struck in the same place

Up to this time the prisoner remained silent, but his heavy panting showed that he was suffering severely On receiving the seventh stroke the prisoner moaned and he continued moaning during the rest of the punishment and kept moving his head from side to side with a quick mechanical motion His sufferings were intense his muscles were distended and he struggled to free himself from the iron grip that held him to the triangle as stripe after stripe of the cat descended upon his back No cry escaped his lips but his agonizing moan showed what he was suffering and when the turnkey announced the twenty his back from the neck to the waist was one livid mass, red, swollen and bleeding every knot on the lash had cut into the prisoner's back producing a wound about an eighth of inch in length As soon as the punishment was over the culprit was released and trembling in every limb, he was led back to his cell

BEECHER'S CONVERSATION

WHAT HE READS—HIS NEWSPAPER IDEAS—TAXING CHURCH PROPERTY ETC

[New York Sun]

A little latter Mr Beecher went away from the midst of his friends and bestowed himself in an easy posture in a distant chair, where he conversed freely with acquaintances He talked with a Sun reporter, among other things about newspapers

I don t read the Sun he said and don t allow anyone to read it to me. What's the good of a man sticking pins into himself I used to read all the papers for I always keep myself well informed But since this matter came up I avoid everything that touches on it I like to see how people are living and what they are doing not what they are put up to do I read about yacht races horse races market reports and the doings of the bulls and bears in Wall street I read what the ministers are at and the longshoremen are doing and I suppose I ought to be ashamed of it but I always read any big John Morrissey or John Heenan affair I like to hear how the men were trained I always read the advertisements in a paper Thinking men know that it isn't the editorial page that reflect the condition of the people or the country But the advertising columns do indicate just that for business is business and always means business If a man launches a ship or takes a contract to build fifty dwellings, he does it because there's money in it But the editorial page is governed by policies by selfish plans and prejudices, and can not always be relied on The best intellect of the country is not exhibited there There is no great question of human economy up and the great papers are in the position of a ship that has taken a tack and is waiting to take another The sails flap and once in a while belly out but don t take the wind and fly with or before it.

I used to know what Greeley would say whenever a question came up, and I don t know what Whitelaw Reid will say Bennett (the old man) used to run a paper on the opposite principle He wanted every one to say each day Dom it, I wonder what Bennett will say this morning He wanted people to look for something different from yesterday and never to find the Herald the same for a week at a time He was after money, and he got it. But there are no great principles up to day In Europe the people are attacking old institutions and clearing the ground for a new building, but the only question that approaches the dignity of a principle in this country is the school question and that is not fully developed—does not press for solution yet

From this subject Mr Beecher passed to a consideration of the question of taxing church property He thought that the present system of leaving this property untaxed was unjust 'In Buffalo,' he said, there is $30 000 000 (I believe that's the figure) worth of church property and in the whole country there must be hundreds of millions worth and this produces no revenue. It doesn't make it any the more just because all the church are equally exempt for there are thousands of people who don t go to church and have to pay for the untaxed property, in which they have no interest

Mr Beecher also told about his ventures in Wall street—how he was induced by Mr Jay Cook to put $5 000 in Northern Pacific bonds and $2 000 into nearly worthless silver mining stock

WOMAN'S CHARM OF NEEDLE WORK —There is something exquisitely pleasant and touching—at least of a very sweet soft and winning effect—in this peculiarity of needle work distinguishing men from women Our own sex is incapable of any such by play aside from the main business of life, but women—be they of what earthly rank they may however gifted with intellect or genius, or endowed with artful beauty—have always some little handiwork ready to fill up the tiny gap of every vacant moment A needle is familiar to the fingers of them all A queen no doubt, plies it on occasion, the woman-poet can use it adroitly as her pen; the woman's eye that has discovered a new star turns from its glory to send the polished little instrument gleaming along the hem of her kerchief, or to darn a casual flaw in her dress And they have the advantage of us in this respect The slender thread of silk or cotton keeps them united with the small familiar, gentle interests of life the continually operating influences do much for the health of the character and carry off what would otherwise be a dangerous accumulation of morbid sensibility A vast deal of human sympathy runs along this electric line stretching from the throne to the wicker chair of the humblest seamstress and keeping high and low in a species of common union with their kindred beings Methinks it is a token of healthy and gentle characteristics when women of accomplishments and high thoughts love to sew especially as they are never more at home with their own hearts than when so occupied —Hawthorne's Marble Faun

A Revengeful Organ.

The stomach is a revengeful organ If we assign it indigestible food it not only refuses to perform its office but inflicts upon us unspeakable tortures such as those of indigestion colic cholera morbus &c Not content with giving us pain it frequently inaugurates an excessive and wasting diarrhea called dysentery which carries us to our graves With a view to prevent these consequences as soon as the stomach gives notice by premonitory twinges that its cargo is not to its liking a wineglassful or two of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be swallowed This admirable digestive cordial will promptly reconcile the refractory organ to its contents and prevent any of those annoying and possibly fatal results which the presence of indigestible food in the stomach is liable to produce The Bitters are also a superb tonic restorative and appetizer

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1875.

KEARNY AT SEVEN PINES.

BY EDMUND CLARENCE STEDMAN.

So that soldierly legend is still on its journey—
That story of Kearny, who knew not to yield!
'Twas the day when with Jameson, fierce Berry and Birney,
Against twenty thousand he rallied the field.
Where the red volleys poured, where the clamor rose highest,
Where the dead lay in clumps through the dwarf oak and pine;
Where the aim from the thicket was surest and nighest,
No charge like Phil Kearny's along the whole line.

When the battle went ill, and the bravest were solemn,
Near the dark Seven Pines, where we still held our ground,
He rode down the length of the withering column,
And his heart at our war-cry leapt up with a bound;
He snuffed like his charger the wind of the powder,
His sword waved on us, and we answered the sign;
Loud our cheer as we rushed, but his laugh rang the louder,
"There's the devil's own fun, boys, along the whole line!"

How he strode his brown steed! How we saw his blade brighten;
In the one hand still left—and the reins in his teeth!
He laughed like a boy when the holidays heighten,
But a soldier's glance shot from his visor beneath.
Up came the reserves to the mellay infernal,
Asking where to go in—through the clearing or pine?
"Oh, anywhere! Forward! 'Tis all the same, Colonel;
You'll find lovely fighting along the whole line!"

Oh, evil the black shroud of night at Chantilly,
That hid him from sight of his brave men and tried!
Foul, foul sped the bullet that clipped the white lily,
The flower of our knighthood, the whole army's pride!
Yet we dream that he still—in that shadowy region,
Where the dead form their ranks at the wan drummer's sign—
Rides on, as of old, down the length of his legion,
And the word still is forward! along the whole line.

Massachusetts still has a law which provides that "whoever travels on the Lord's day, except from necessity or charity, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10 for every offense." The statute is practically a nullity, no punishment such as it authorizes having been inflicted within many years; but it makes all Sunday travel unlawful, and consequently no damages can be recovered for injuries received on highways or railroads on Sundays, unless proof can be introduced that the traveling was for necessity or charity.

The memorable feat of that Yorkshire woolen manufacturer who sat down to dinner at 7 o'clock in a suit made from wool which was sheared from the sheep after sunrise on the morning of the same day, has been rivalled by a man in Chatauqua county, New York, who lately had a pair of Angora goats sheared at sunrise, their fleeces carded, spun, woven, dyed and finished, and the cloth made into a fashionable dress which his wife wore at sunset. The cloth was ready to be made up early in the afternoon. Four dressmakers at once took it in hand, and at the appointed time not a flounce or a furbelow was lacking or imperfectly finished.

During the drive which the Sultan of Zanzibar took through the west end of London, the other day, he was much astonished at the display of flowers, carriages and gay dresses in the park. "Verily," he remarked to Dr. Bulger, "the present world is undoubtedly yours; whether the next will be yours also is, to say the least, uncertain." In the morning he said, "For the sake of Allah do conduct me elsewhere, to have my face taken, in order that I may be able to show a copy of it to the numerous face-takers (photographers) who apply to me for it." Ascot pleased him much, for, like a true Arab, he is fond of horses. "We run our horses, too," he said, "but in a straight course, and never for money. We race them for the sake of emulation and for the glory of winning; but from all I hear I fancy that many lacs of rupees went from pocket to pocket yesterday."

The only basis upon which to estimate the specie sent abroad from our state is the amounts forwarded through the express company, and their figures show a marked increase during the first six months of the current year over that carried in the corresponding period of 1874. For the six months ending June 30, 1874, the sum of $888,430 in treasure was shipped from this city by Wells, Fargo & Co.; and in the past six months the same company forwarded $1,110,907, an increase of $221,477, or over 25 per cent., the greatest increase being shown in the business of March, the gold forwarded in that month in 1874 having been $56,949, and in the same month in 1875, $228,051. The gold coin forwarded in February this year also exceeded that in the same month last year by $45,000. The bullion shipments through the same source were $35,000 greater during the month of June this year than last, the currency shipments $13,000 greater, and the gold and silver shipments $14,000 greater, or a total shipment of treasure in June, 1875, greater by $56,844 than in the corresponding month last year. These figures show that notwithstanding the complaints of dull times which have been heard, we are doing better than last year, and though merchants here have sent abroad the large amounts named in payment for the heavy stocks of goods imported during the season, the fairly easy condition of our local money market is indicative of a healthy state of our commercial interests and the recuperative power of our country under a heavy draft on her monetary resources. The fact is mainly attributable to our productive power, and with its full development will come a full tide of prosperity in all our commercial and financial relations.

Foreign Wheat Markets and Crops.

There was an abundant rain in France nearly everywhere, on the 12th ult., but later there was a heavy rainfall in the districts of Garonne and Adour, in which are Toulouse and Agen, where the damages by flood are in these two places estimated at $24,000,000. The flood was in part from the melting snow and ice of the Pyrenees. There have also been heavy rainfalls in Hungary and Austria, causing considerable damage to the growing crops.

In the Fourmis and Dijonais districts in France the crops on the 8th ult were favorably spoken of. The hay crop will turn out better than earlier in the season had been expected.

The imports of breadstuffs into Switzerland during the year 1874, according to Swiss official accounts, were: Wheat, 1,602,516 qrs.; rye, 36,077 qrs.; oats, 372,134 qrs., and barley, 155,616 qrs. Total, 2,166,613 qrs.

The wheat crop of Australia was in 1874, 9,862,693 bushels, from which deducting seed and consumption 2,102,693 bushels, there remains a surplus for export of 7,760,000 bushels, which is equal to 194,000 tons of flour.

In Belgium, Holland and Germany there had at latest mail advices been a very considerable fall of rain, with a lower range of temperature.

The wheat crop in Scotland, and it is believed in England, will not be so good this year as it was last. The breadth sown is believed less than usual. The frosts of winter were more severe than usual in Scotland, where barley is the more profitable crop. More of it and less of wheat was sown.

In portions of the Russian Empire the grain crops have been seriously threatened by drouth, especially in Poland and Bessarabia.

Oregon Wheat Crop.

As there is very little doing in the local wheat market, we give space from time to time to reports from abroad as to the condition of the crops in other parts of the world, as they form a sort of basis for calculating the demand for the next crop. From all these reports, taken together, it is apparent that the general average will be less than the ordinary crop, and that, supplies from other countries falling short, the requirements will be made so much more on the surplus of this coast. Oregon will be sure to have, at a low estimate, 125,000 tons surplus, as the change in the weather now experienced will check all danger of damage from extreme heat, and the little uneasiness felt by farmers on that score will be dispelled. The latest reports received by our State exchanges, and by letter from the various grain-growing localities in Oregon, all agree in giving the condition of the plant as promising, except in a very few instances, and these are fields which will fall short principally on account of bad cultivation. The acreage is fully 20 per cent. greater than last year, and the average yield now promises to be quite as good as then. While we only give our judgment, based on the reports and figures that reach us through various sources, we see no insuperable reason why the wheat growers of our State may not reckon upon a fairly remunerative season during the harvest year about to begin.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—This cereal, usually a leading commodity in our market, has shown but little activity for nearly a month past. It is quite probable that there are several thousand tons yet in the State of the old crop, but it does not come forward, there having been no demand recently, except for milling purposes, and the several State mills having, with few exceptions, a fair supply for present exigencies. The San Francisco market shows less activity than usual at this season, the new crop coming forward very slowly under the failure of prices to advance to meet the demands of the producers. At Liverpool and in the continental markets a rise of 1s@2s per quarter has taken place, which we think is more likely to be permanent, and betokens a better course of those markets than the one taken after harvest last year. Our home market has but few transactions, and nominal quotations have a range from $1 40@1 50 per cental.

FLOUR—Shipments are not very large in volume and the stocks in hand have slightly increased since our last weekly review. Quotations have been reduced to $4 75 per ℔ bbl for standard extras, $4 25 for good country brands, and $3 75 for superfine. The local trade is fair and there are some orders from ports to the north, but the San Francisco market is dull and shipments thither leave limited margins.

OATS—A few straggling lots are yet received but the aggregate is not large. The local trade consumes the bulk of those coming forward, and but few important shipments are being made. There is some tendency to depreciation in the California market as the season progresses, and our exports will decline rapidly till after harvest. We quote to-day at 55 cents per bushel sacks included.

BARLEY—We hear of no transactions to establish prices, and we quote nominally at $1 25 ℔ cwt. for common, and $1 35@140 for choice.

MILL FEED—There is still a tendency to a reduced demand. We quote bran at $15@16 50 ℔ ton; shorts, $22@25; chops, middlings, etc., $27 50@30; oil cake meal, $30, with but little in market.

HAY—A full supply in the market, quotable at $10@11 ℔ ton for fair to best timothy, loose, and $11 baled.

POTATOES—The market is in fair supply at 75c@$1 ℔ bushel.

ONIONS—There are but few lots in the market, quotable at 2c@2½c, nominally.

APPLES (DRIED)—There is a fair demand for fair lots, either in sacks or kegs, the latter preferred, at 7@7½c ℔ ℔. Exports are increasing.

BACON—Sides are held at our former quotations of 11@12c ℔ ℔, and are in full supply; shoulders are unchanged from 8@8½c; while the market is overstocked with hams, and quotations for common lots are 10@12c ℔ ℔, though they must be a little extra to command the latter figure.

LARD—Good Oregon made is worth 16c ℔ ℔ in kegs or tins, and is in brisk demand.

BUTTER—We quote fair to choice roll at 22@25 ℔ ℔; extra print for table use, 30@35c; common solid, 18@20c.

EGGS—There is quite a fair demand for the season and prices have ranged from 27@30 cents ℔ dozen, and they are held at the latter figure to-day.

CHICKENS—The market is in liberal supply; quotations for full grown, $4 25@4 50 per dozen; spring, $2 50@2 75.

BEEF CATTLE—Some very fine arrivals have been noticed during the week, and the market is supplied with an excellent stock. Slaughterers' prices are $3 75@4 25 per cwt. neat; or $1 75@2 50 on foot.

MUTTON SHEEP—The demand is light at $2@2 75 per head.

DRESSED HOGS—There is some inquiry for the local trade at 6¼@6½c ℔ ℔.

HIDES AND FURS—Prices for hides are still down, on account of the many damaged lots reaching the market. Undamaged are quoted at 15c ℔ ℔ for dry beef hides, 6c for green; culls, 8a10c; elk, 18a20c ℔ ℔; deer, 18@35c ℔ ℔, dried, and 50@75c a piece, green; mink skins each, $1 54; otter, $1@5; beaver, 75c@$1.

WOOL—The state of activity noticed in the trade last week has continued uninterruptedly until now. As before, prices have depended largely on the quality and condition. Quotations for wool from this valley are furnished at 23@24c ℔ ℔, from Eastern Oregon 21@21½c; but a lot of valley wool was on the market to-day for which an offer of 25c ℔ ℔ was refused. The shipments for the season to date have been about 500,000 pounds.

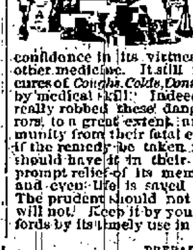
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.



The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them, incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 15, 1875.

KEARNY AT SEVEN PINES.

BY EDMUND CLARENCE STEDMAN.

So that soldiery legend is still on its journey—
That story of Kearny, who knew not to yield!
'Twas the day when with Jameson, fierce Berry and Birney,
Against twenty thousand he rallied the field.
Where the red volleys poured, where the clamor rose highest,
Where the dead lay in clumps through the dwarf oak and pine;
Where the aim from the thicket was surest and nighest,
No charge like Phil Kearny's along the whole line.

When the battle went ill, and the bravest were solemn,
Near the dark Seven Pines, where we still held our ground,
He rode down the length of the withering column;
And his heart at our war-cry leapt up with a bound;
He snuffed like his charger the wind of the powder,
His sword waved on us, and we answered the sign;
Loud our cheer as we rushed, but his laugh rang the louder,
"There's the devil's own fun, boys, along the whole line!"

How he strode his brown steed! How we saw his blade brighten,
In the one hand still left—and the reins in his teeth!
He laughed like a boy when the holidays heighten,
But a soldier's glance shot from his visor beneath.

Up came the reserves to the mellay infernal,
Asking where to go in—through the clearing or pine?
"Oh, anywhere! Forward! 'Tis all the same, Colonel;
You'll find lovely fighting along the whole line!"

Oh, evil the black shroud of night at Chantilly,
That hid him from sight of his brave men and tried!
Foul, foul sped the bullet that clipped the white lily,
The flower of our knighthood, the whole army's pride!
Yet we dream that he still—in that shadowy region,
Where the dead form their ranks at the wan drummer's sign—
Rides on, as of old, down the length of his legion,
And the word still is forward! along the whole line.

An etymological poet out in Coffeyville, Kansas, is inspired to the following, which, outside of its high poetical merit, possesses great statistical merit:

One of the best hits lately made in any satirical London paper has appeared in the Hornet, one of the numerous competitors of Punch. Massachusetts still has a law which provides that "whoever travels on the Lord's day, except from necessity or charity, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10 for every offense." The statute is practically a nullity, no punishment such as it authorizes having been inflicted within many years; but it makes all Sunday travel unlawful, and consequently no damages can be recovered for injuries received on highways or railroads on Sundays, unless proof can be introduced that the traveling was for necessity or charity.

The memorable feat of that Yorkshire woolen manufacturer who sat down to dinner at 7 o'clock in a suit made from wool which was sheared from the sheep after sunrise on the morning of the same day, has been rivalled by a man in Chatauqua county, New York, who lately had a pair of Angora goats sheared at sunrise, their fleeces carded, spun, woven, dyed and finished, and the cloth made into a fashionable dress which his wife wore at sunset. The cloth was ready to be made up early in the afternoon. Four dressmakers at once took it in hand, and at the appointed time not a flounce or a furbelow was lacking or imperfectly finished.

During the drive which the Sultan of Zanzibar took through the west end of London, the other day, he was much astonished at the display of flowers, carriages and gay dresses in the park. "Verily," he remarked to Dr. Bulger, "the present world is undoubtedly yours; whether the next will be yours also is, to say the least, uncertain." In the morning he said, "For the sake of Allah do conduct me elsewhere, to have my face taken, in order that I may be able to show a copy of it to the numerous face-takers (photographers) who apply to me for it." Ascot pleased him much, for, like a true Arab, he is fond of horses. "We run our horses, too," he said, "but in a straight course, and never for money. We race them for the sake of emulation and for the glory of winning; but from all I hear I fancy that many lacs of rupees went from pocket to pocket yesterday."

The only basis upon which to estimate the specie sent abroad from our state is the amounts forwarded through the express company, and their figures show a marked increase during the first six months of the current year over that carried in the corresponding period of 1874. For the six months ending June 30, 1874, the sum of $888,430 in treasure was shipped from this city by Wells, Fargo & Co., and in the past six months the same company forwarded $1,110,907, an increase of $221,477, or over 25 per cent., the greatest increase being shown in the business of March, the gold forwarded in that month in 1874 having been $56,949, and in the same month in 1875, $228,051. The gold coin forwarded in February this year also exceeded that in the same month last year by $15,000. The bullion shipments through the same source were $85,000 greater during the month of June this year than last, the currency shipments $19,000 greater, and the gold and silver shipments $14,000 greater, or a total shipment of treasure in June, 1875, greater by $56,844 than in the corresponding month last year. These figures show that notwithstanding the complaints of dull times which have been heard, we are doing better than last year, and though merchants here have sent abroad the large amounts named in payment for the heavy stocks of goods imported during the season, the fairly easy condition of our local money market is indicative of a healthy state of our commercial interests and the recuperative power of our country under a heavy draft on her monetary resources. The fact is mainly attributable to our productive power, and with its full development will come a full tide of prosperity in all our commercial and financial relations.

Foreign Wheat Markets and Crops.

There was an abundant rain in France nearly everywhere, on the 12th ult., but later there was a heavy rainfall in the districts of Garonne and Adour, in which are Toulouse and Aden, where the damages by flood are in these two places estimated at $24,000,000. The flood was in part from the melting snow and ice of the Pyrenees. There have also been heavy rainfalls in Hungary and Austria, causing considerable damage to the growing crops.

In the Fournia and Dijonais districts in France the crops on the 18th ult were favorably spoken of. The hay crop will turn out better than earlier in the season had been expected.

The imports of breadstuffs into Switzerland during the year 1874, according to Swiss official accounts, were: Wheat, 1,602,816 qrs., rye, 36,077 qrs., oats, 372,134 qrs., and barley, 155,616 qrs. Total, 2,166,643 qrs.

The wheat crop of Australia was in 1874, 9,862,693 bushels, from which deducting seed and consumption 2,102,693 bushels, there remains a surplus for export of 7,760,000 bushels, which is equal to 194,000 tons of flour.

In Belgium, Holland and Germany there had at latest mail advices been a very considerable fall of rain, with a lower range of temperature.

The wheat crop in Scotland, and it is believed in England, will not be so good this year as it was last. The breadth sown is believed less than usual. The frosts of winter were more severe than usual in Scotland, where barley is the more profitable crop. More of it and less of wheat was sown.

In portions of the Russian Empire the grain crops have been seriously threatened by drouth, especially in Poland and Bessarabia.

Oregon Wheat Crop.

As there is very little doing in the local wheat market, we give space from time to time to reports from abroad as to the condition of the crops in other parts of the world, as they form a sort of basis for calculating the demand for the next crop. From all these reports, taken together, it is apparent that the general average will be less than the ordinary crop, and that, supplies from other countries falling short, the requirements will be made so much more on the surplus of this coast. Oregon will be sure to have, at a low estimate, 125,000 tons surplus, as the change in the weather now experienced will check all danger of damage from extreme heat, and the little uneasiness felt by farmers on that score will be dispelled. The latest reports received by our State exchanges, and by letter from the various grain-growing localities in Oregon, all agree in giving the condition of the plant as promising, except in a very few instances, and these are fields which will fall short principally on account of bad cultivation. The average is fully 20 per cent. greater than last year, and the average yield now promises to be quite as good as then. While we only give our judgment, based on the reports and figures that reach us through various sources, we see no insuperable reason why the wheat growers of our State may not reckon upon a fairly remunerative season during the harvest year about to begin.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—This cereal, usually a leading commodity in our market, has shown but little activity for nearly a month past. It is quite probable that there are several thousand tons yet in the State of the old crop, but it does not come forward, there having been no demand recently, except for milling purposes, and the several State mills having, with few exceptions, a fair supply for present exigencies. The San Francisco market shows less activity than usual at this season, the new crop coming forward very slowly under the failure of prices to advance to meet the demands of the producers. At Liverpool, and in the continental markets a rise of 1s@2s per quarter has taken place, which we think is more likely to be permanent, and betokens a better course of those markets than the one taken after harvest last year. Our home market has but few transactions, and nominal quotations have a range from $1 40@1 50 per cental.

FLOUR—Shipments are not very large in volume and the stocks in hand have slightly increased since our last weekly review. Quotations have been reduced to $4 75 per ℔ bbl for standard extras, $4 25 for good country brands, and $3 75 for superfine. The local trade is fair and there are some orders from ports to the north, but the San Francisco market is dull and shipments thither leave limited margins.

OATS—A few straggling lots are yet received but the aggregate is not large. The local trade consumes the bulk of those coming forward, and but few important shipments are being made. There is some tendency to depreciation in the California market as the season progresses, and our exports will decline rapidly till after harvest. We quote to-day at 55 cents per bushel sacks included.

BARLEY—We hear of no transactions to establish prices, and we quote nominally at $1 25 ℔ cwt. for common and $1 35@1 40 for choice.

MILL FEED—There is still a tendency to a reduced demand. We quote bran at $15@16 50 ℔ ton; shorts, $22@25; chops, middlings, etc., $27 50@30; oil cake meal, $30, with but little in market.

HAY—A full supply in the market, quotable at $10@11 ℔ ton for fair to best timothy, loose, and $11 baled.

POTATOES—The market is in fair supply at 75c@$1 ℔ bushel.

ONIONS—There are but few lots in the market, quotable at 2c ℔ ℔, nominally.

APPLES (DRIED)—There is a fair demand for fair lots, either in sacks or kegs, the latter preferred, at 7@7½c ℔ ℔. Exports are increasing.

BACON—Sides are held at our former quotations of 11@12c ℔ ℔, and are in full supply; shoulders are unchanged from 8@9c, while the market is overstocked with hams, and quotations for common lots are 10@12c ℔ ℔, though they must be a little extra to command the latter figure.

LARD—Good Oregon made is worth 16c ℔ ℔ in kegs or tins, and is in brisk demand.

BUTTER—We quote fair to choice roll at 22@25 ℔ ℔; extra print for table use, 30@35c; common solid, 18@20c.

EGGS—There is quite a fair demand for the season and prices have ranged from 27@30 cents ℔ dozen, and they are held at the latter figure to-day.

CHICKENS—The market is in liberal supply; quotations for full grown $4 25@4 50 per dozen; spring, $2 50@2 75.

BEEF CATTLE—Some very fine arrivals have been noticed during the week, and the market is supplied with an excellent stock. Slaughterers' prices are $3 75@4 25 per cwt. neat, or $1 75@2 50 on foot.

MUTTON SHEEP—The demand is light at $2@2 75 per head.

DRESSED HOGS—There is some inquiry for the local trade at 6½@6¾c ℔ ℔.

HIDES AND FURS—Prices for hides are still down, on account of the many damaged lots reaching the market. Undamaged are quoted at 15c ℔ ℔ for dry beef hides 6c for green; culls, 8@10c; elk, 18@20c ℔ ℔; deer, 18@35c ℔ ℔, dried, and 50@75c a piece, green; mink skins, each, $1 50; otter, $1@5; beaver, 75c@$1.

WOOL—The state of activity noticed in the trade last week has continued uninterruptedly until now. As before, prices have depended largely on the quality and condition. Quotations for wool from this valley are furnished at 23@24c ℔ ℔, from Eastern Oregon 21@21½c; but a lot of valley wool was on the market to-day for which an offer of 25c ℔ ℔ was refused. The shipments for the season to date have been about 500,000 pounds.

To Farmers and Others.

IMMIGRANTS ARE ARRIVING in the State by every steamer in search of employment, and the Board find difficulty in getting vacancies for them. We therefore earnestly request Farmers and others who require Farm Hands or labor of any kind, to immediately communicate with us and we will gladly supply them with such labor free of charge on our part. Please state the wages offered, the class of men you want, and for how long employment will be given. The Assistant Secretary is in daily attendance at the Board Rooms, Ankeny's Building, Portland, from 10 to 3 P. M. each day, to whom all letters should be addressed.

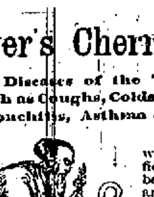
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.



The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, than can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

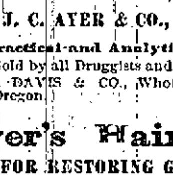
Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.



Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
